BROADWAY THEATRE.

The Servant in the House.

"The Servant in the House," which Harper's Magazine calls "the most remarkable play in the English language: which the New York Evening Post says is "toe greatest drama of the generation," and which the Chicago Daily News declares is "the most beautiful play of all ages," will be presented at the Broadway theater on Saturday, Oct. 9, by Henry Miller's Associcate Players, a company that has achieved a reputation second only to the play, "The Servant in the House was produced in New York a year, ago last March, and ran all through the spring and summer, at the Savoy theater, playing to crowded houses in spite of the Intense heat. Since then it has been presented in Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities of this country and Canada, and has been unanimously proclaimed by critics the most important contribution to the stage that has been sen within the memory of the present day theater-The Servant in the House. of the present day theater-

BREED THEATER.

The Stampede, Thrilling Picture of 101 Ranch.

Ranch.

The Freed theater held a large and thoroughly interested audience last evening, which was attracted by the many excellent feature motion pictures on the programme for the remainder of the week. The leading feature of the bill is the extremely novel picture, entitled The Stampede, and its series of thrilling episodes held the spectators spellbound during its exhibition.

A very unusual form of revenge is resorted to by a rejected sultor of the ranchman's daughter, and he selects the moment when his rival is in company of the heroine, and watching the feeding of prairie cattle. This he knows is the supreme instant, and giving a few pistol shots and some sharp yells, starts the thousand of cattle in a sampede towards the happy couple. They have only her pony to look to for escape, and jumping his back, the pair ride like mad ahead of the fremised cattle to a point of safety, the other cowhors having secon their comtade's danger and headed them off. This is but one of the many pictures organd for this week, one of the finest being a whole reel of comedy founded upon the plot of a very popular song. Miss Darnell does herself proud in the splendid rendition of the fascinat-

SONGS THAT REMAIN.

Tis when he feels within his heart.
The swell or passions, son of pain,
and all life's little things depart.
The poet writes songs that remain.

He weaves them not in words that apeak.
